Property Description

Sitting on a hillside right across the road from the majestic Naranjo River is Riverside Estate Lot. This 2.69 hectare (6.6 acre) lot is on the public road and has access to municipal water and electricity. Located 15 minutes from downtown Quepos, between the tranquil rural towns of Villa Nueva and Londres, this is an ideal location to build a family home or compound in the peaceful Costa Rican countryside. This property has been used in the past as a teak farm and still has a number of mature teak trees on it that could be used in building your dream home. Numerous cinnamon and allspice trees are leftover from the property's spice farm days. This is an excellent opportunity for someone that wants to experience the Costa Rican countryside while still being close to the gorgeous beaches of Manuel Antonio and the convenient services of Quepos.
