Property Description

This beautiful brand new home is literally 102 yards from an idyllic, undiscovered beach in a community that combines easy access with an undiscovered, "off the beaten path" feeling. Few people will ever have the opportunity to live this close to Costa Rica's beaches, in such a pristine spot. The country's strict coastal protection laws have protected its jungle-lined, gorgeous beaches - and the laws have made beachside, titled real estate extremely precious. Pura Chante is a dream come true for anyone who dreams of living at the ocean. The sound of the waves at Pura Chante is inescapable; one could walk north along the beach itself for miles. The home is a brand new, modern and inviting space. Finished in 2023, every room in the home has the style and dimensions that will make this property both a comfortable home and a successful, marketable rental. The main floor features enormous windows and sliders for light, air flow and views out to the surrounding greenery, all around the primary living and kitchen space.
