Property Description

Escape to your own piece of paradise in the serene Baru area of Costa Rica with this exquisite custom built 2-story home, which offers the perfect blend of privacy and accessibility. Situated away from high-density tourist areas, yet providing easy access to the beach, restaurants, and services in the Dominical/Uvita/Platanillo regions, this home is a haven for those seeking a tranquil retreat. As you approach, a private concrete driveway gracefully curves downward, creating distance between the house and the road, enhancing both privacy and serenity. The house is strategically inset along the hillside, ensuring unobstructed sunset views and a seamless connection with the natural beauty that surrounds it. Boasting an attractive and practical design, every feature and function of this quality-built US-style home has been well thought out. The property is equipped with self-sustaining features, including solar panels, a vegetable greenhouse, mountain water, a backup rainwater capture system, and backup generator, making it an ideal choice for those who value sustainability & the savings that go along.
