Property Description

This property is located in the high parts of the mountain located in the Desmonte area. Due to its position and height, it provides a spectacular view of both the high mountains of Atenas as well as the Puriscal mountains that descend on the horizon to the Pacific Ocean. The house is strategically built in light material but with a beautiful design and maximum security details. It has 4 bedrooms, 3 bathrooms, a large terrace with an impressive view, a carport and two cellar spaces. It also has a space in the lower part that could be converted into either a barbecue area or even a small apartment. The land measures 5000m where in different areas you can make terraces to add a small house, an entertainment area where you can take advantage of the great view, and it also has spaces to make a pool. This property is special for someone who wants to live away from noise and who seeks to be surrounded by lots of flora and fauna since it is located 7 miles from the center of Athens on a small street with very little traffic.
