Property Description

Location: Atenas, Costa Rica This extraordinary property blends Balinese elegance with Costa Rican beauty, offering distinct living spaces across multiple pavilions. The main pavilion features an open-plan kitchen, dining, and lounge with soaring exotic wood ceilings and floor-to-ceiling glass walls that merge the home with its lush tropical gardens. A second pavilion includes a spacious bedroom, refined bathroom, and an adjoining versatile room—currently an artist's studio—that could easily become another bedroom, gym, or office. This pavilion also features an additional bedroom with its own en-suite bath. A separate structure pays homage to Balinese temple traditions, adding a spiritual dimension to the estate. Outdoors, a pool with water features, a graceful iron bridge, textured stone walls, and tropical landscaping create an enchanting environment. Trails lead to a coffee plantation and a bamboo grove where the sound of towering bamboo swaying in the wind creates an unforgettable experience.
