Property Description

High above the emerald hills of Escalares in Costa Rica's pristine Southern Pacific Zone, Casa Ladera commands the horizon from its privileged perch at an elevation of 800 feet, which captures soft ocean breezes. This masterfully designed 6-bedroom estate spans over 6,760 sq ft of elegant indoor living space, wrapped in exotic hardwoods, natural stone, precision tiling, and dramatic architectural flair. With three additional building lots, it's more than a home—an estate vision poised for a continued private jungle habitat or a private family compound. This six-bedroom sanctuary is surrounded by lush rainforest, and awe-inspiring 180-degree ocean vistas span 70 miles of Southern Pacific coastline, from the Osa Peninsula, the iconic Whale's Tail, and the mystical Cano Island. Enjoy ocean views from every room, the vast infinity pool, and the large jacuzzi. Watch whales from every room and the 115 species of birds inhabiting the property.
