Property Description

A Passion Project Turned Paradise Located in the peaceful mountains of rural Puriscal, this 3-hectare (approx. 8-acre) finca offers a rare blend of ecological preservation and development potential. Prime Building Sites & 360° Views The property features at least five prime building areas, each offering breathtaking 360-degree views of the surrounding mountains and spectacular sunsets. Whether you are dreaming of a private eco-estate, a boutique project, or a sustainable family compound, the terrain provides plenty of flexibility while remaining manageable. Nature & Connectivity The finca borders a beautiful "naciente" creek, providing a natural water source and a serene atmosphere. It is strategically located within the "Zona Pasa Lapas" biological corridor, which connects the Carara and La Cangreja National Parks, making it a haven for local wildlife and exotic birds. While you'll feel worlds away in your private forest, connectivity is easy.
