Property Description

Located within the lush rainforests of Costa Rica, this expansive 116-acre farm offers a rare blend of natural wonder and strategic location. Situated just one hour from the popular destination of La Fortuna and less than two hours from Liberia International Airport, this property serves as a private haven for those looking to immerse themselves in a thriving rainforest ecosystem. The Landscape & Natural Features The property is characterized by a dramatic topography of rolling hills and verdant valleys. A defining feature of the estate is the presence of pristine rivers winding through the land. These fresh-water corridors provide both a breathtaking visual landscape and various recreational opportunities, including rafting through gentle rapids. The rich biodiversity of the region is on full display here. From ancient towering trees and draped vines to exotic flora like orchids, the farm is a living testament to Costa Rica's ecological heritage.
