Property Description

Set above the charming mountain pueblo of Vara Blanca, this expansive 7,000 m² property offers breathtaking panoramic views of Poás Volcano and Congo Volcano, along with a sweeping valley outlook over Vara Blanca and nearby Poasito. Ideally located just one hour from San José International Airport, the property combines serene mountain living with convenient access to the Central Valley. Positioned just off the main road, the lot is accessed via a gravel driveway and features two distinct and beautifully prepared homesites. The upper building pad captures expansive volcano and valley views, creating a spectacular setting for a primary residence. The lower homesite is centered around a fully formed and plumbed lake, complemented by a natural stream that will provide fresh water once completed—ideal for a private cabin or guest retreat. Surrounded by towering trees and lush native forest alive with birdlife, the property embodies the essence of cloud forest living.
