Property Description

There are certain homes in Uvita where the view becomes part of the experience from the moment you arrive. This villa is one of them. Set above the coastline in Costa Rica's Southern Pacific Zone, the property captures wide ocean views, sunset light, jungle surroundings, and the relaxed indoor-outdoor lifestyle that makes this part of the country so special. Currently offered as a successful vacation rental on Airbnb, the home carries an impressive 4.9/5 rating and has proven itself to be a strong income-producing property. That combination matters. Buyers are not just looking at a beautiful ocean view home; they are looking at a property that guests already enjoy, review highly, and continue to book. The villa was designed for comfort, privacy, and easy entertaining. The main living area opens naturally toward the pool terrace, creating the kind of indoor-outdoor flow people expect from a luxury Costa Rica home.
