Property Description

Absolute Privacy, Internal Roads, and Conservation Potential Discover the pure essence of Costa Rica on this stunning 295-hectare property located in Bijagual de Turrubares. This estate is the perfect balance between active environmental protection and the potential of a luxurious private retreat completely disconnected from the outside world (off-grid living). Key Features Access Infrastructure: The property has established internal roads, facilitating exploration of its vast mountain landscape, forest monitoring, and access to the most scenic viewpoints. Protection Income (FONAFIFO): A solid financial asset. The estate receives payments for environmental services, supporting its commitment to carbon sequestration and watershed protection. Pure Water Resources: The estate is a "water factory." It includes crystal-clear rivers, numerous springs, and spectacular waterfalls that define the property's soundscape and visual appeal.
