Property Description

Located in the center of Santa Teresa, on the Nicoya Peninsula in Puntarenas, Costa Rica, this fully gated property places you in one of the country's most established coastal destinations. Santa Teresa is known for its beach setting, surf culture, and active village atmosphere, offering a mix of natural surroundings and everyday convenience. Within that setting, this standalone property brings together a four bedroom main residence and a fully independent two bedroom guesthouse on a 634 square meter lot, creating a flexible opportunity for personal use, income generation, or a combination of both. The main residence is organized around a sleek lap pool that runs alongside the social spaces, creating a strong connection between interior and exterior living. Double height ceilings and expansive glass doors bring in natural light and tropical airflow, while the open concept kitchen with a generous island connects naturally to the living room and terrace.
