Property Description

Known as the "Mediterranean of Costa Rica" for its privileged climate, this property in Cerro Rayo, Turruabares, represents a blank canvas for visionaries and developers. A natural haven that combines absolute privacy with strategic accessibility. This property is perfectly positioned to capitalize on the growing ecotourism and wellness market in Costa Rica. Its potential is ideal for: Developing a boutique hotel or wellness retreat. A luxury glamping project integrated with nature. Subdivision for an eco-friendly, self-sustaining community or expatriate retirement community. A private estate for recreation and conservation. ? Strategic Location: Situated in San Pablo de Turruabares, offering the tranquility of the mountains while providing access to main roads, and conveniently located near the beaches of the Central Pacific (such as Jacó) and the Greater Metropolitan Area.
