Property Description

Located at the end of a quiet cul-de-sac within a secure gated community, this newly built home offers a refined balance of privacy, comfort, and natural surroundings—an excellent opportunity for buyers exploring Ojochal real estate. Thoughtfully designed with contemporary lines softened by subtle colonial accents, the home delivers a warm, livable atmosphere ideal for full-time residence or extended stays in Costa Rica's Southern Zone. Set on a beautifully landscaped 0.22-acre (900 m²) lot with gentle topography, the property is easy to maintain while still offering a strong connection to nature. The fully fenced yard, bordered by bamboo and hibiscus, creates a natural privacy buffer without closing off light or airflow. The residence offers 201.54 m² (approximately 2,169 ft²) of solid concrete block construction, built with durability and comfort in mind. High ceilings enhance natural light and cross-ventilation, while full insulation helps maintain a stable, comfortable interior climate throughout the year.
