Property Description

A main house of 3 bedrooms and 3.5 baths. There is also a guest house that is 2 stories, very nicely designed and tucked into the wooded hillside of the property that is 2 bedrooms and 1 bath. The whole upstairs is one bedroom. The property is a rolling and immensely usable property that is shrouded in fruit trees as well as some furniture grade hardwood trees. There is also a rare (in Costa Rica) pine grove on the property. There are also a couple stands of bamboo. One is orange bamboo and the other is black. The location is about 7 minutes from the town center but has the definite feel of being in the country. It is on the Dominical side of San Isidro and so it is a mere 30 minute drive to the beach. As you are leaving San Isidro heading towards Dominical, there is the chicharonera just outside of town. Go on past that about 75 meters or so. The entrance is at the bottom of the hill and goes up to the right, the uphill side.
