Property Description

Contact Art Guzman - Phone: 8844-5431 Exceptional Value at a Fair Market Price Every decision behind this community has been guided by a simple idea: create a low-density neighborhood where people can enjoy privacy, nature and an exceptional quality of life while offering outstanding value at a fair market price. Located in the peaceful community of Penshurt, this is an opportunity to own individually titled residential homesites in one of Costa Rica's fastest-growing regions without sacrificing the natural beauty that makes the South Caribbean so special. Monkeys, sloths, toucans and a remarkable variety of birds are part of everyday life here. From the beginning, great care has been taken to preserve mature trees and respect the natural wildlife corridors that cross the property, creating a place where nature continues to thrive. Currently Available The first phase includes six individually titled residential homesites, recently subdivided and ready for purchase.
