Property Description

Flat, build-ready lot near Cahuita, ideal for Airbnb cabins or rental units close to town... This flat and accessible lot sits just off Cahuita's main road, offering a rare balance of convenience, privacy, and flexibility for development. Mature palms and established tropical vegetation give the property an open, airy feel while preserving its Caribbean character. The land is level throughout, allowing for efficient and cost-effective construction. Its layout and surroundings are well suited for a small Airbnb project, boutique rental cabins, or a private residence with income potential. Low-density development fits naturally here, blending with the existing landscape and neighborhood rhythm. Cahuita continues to attract growing international interest while maintaining its authentic scale and strong connection to nature. Properties like this, close to town yet set within a green environment, are increasingly sought after for both lifestyle use and long-term rental performance.
