Property Description

Le Diamante Vert Uvita This 250 m² home in Uvita for sale, sketch by Felix Kauffmann and designed & build by architect Pablo Roza is a true example of organic architecture and eco-conscious living, set on a 500 m² lot this unique property features cube-style bedrooms and 2 bathrooms, blending natural materials and tropical design to create a serene and energy-efficient retreat. Built with cedar, guadua bamboo, and adobe walls an ancient, sustainable construction technique using clay and local resources the home reflects a deep commitment to the environment, the guadua bamboo, one of the strongest bamboo species in the world, was cultivated locally in Uvita, while all woodworking was crafted by local carpenters, highlighting the region's craftsmanship and eco-friendly values. The property is surrounded by banana plants, coconut palms (large yellow and small native varieties), a carao tree, avocado, and lemon-mandarin trees, creating a natural tropical garden that enhances the home's organic aesthetic and connection with nature.
