Property Description

Rooted in Serenity — 7.63 acres of pristine mountain land where pure water flows, wildlife thrives, and self-reliance is not just possible, but woven into the very design of the property. Perched at 2,500 feet in the harmonious mountain village of Serenity Gardens, this sanctuary offers a perfect year-round climate — warm but never hot, fresh but never cold — ideal for abundant food production and comfortable living. Pure mountain water flows from both a private spring and the village source, ensuring an abundant supply year-round. A modern hydroelectric system and solar panels provide full off-grid living, while grid connection and generator backup offer additional energy security. At the heart of the property, a breathtaking 30-foot waterfall spills into your private river, crossed by a pedestrian suspension bridge. Multiple serene ponds reflect the sky, and established hiking trails wind through fertile gardens, mature fruit orchards, and five acres of thriving reforestation — now in its third year — planted with over 1,000 native trees from 13 species to restore vital wildlife corridors.
