Property Description

Above the Central Valley of Costa Rica lies a stunning corridor of rainforest that is home to some of the most significant biodiversity and topography in the region. Less than an hour's drive north of SJO airport amongst the coffee farms and rural villages lies a temperate mountainous landscape hosting the La Paz river valley, with its countless waterfalls in an Eden-like setting. Set in the midst of this lush rainforest is a property that, due to its dramatic disposition, hosts one of the highest concentrations of waterfalls and unspoiled hydrological/biological diversity in Central America. Within this Pure Waterfall Sanctuary is a 65.7 acre (26.6HA) development property featuring six waterfalls, numerous cascades, two rivers, and spectacular hydrology (weeping walls, countless smaller waterfalls) where you can witness the spectacle of raw nature and its breathtaking power. A new access road and a system of hiking trails allow visitors to explore the land, rivers, and numerous waterfalls.
