Located in the well-positioned Condominio Gaia community, this 361 m² (3,886 sq ft) lot is one of the larger parcels currently available in the development and is offered at a very competitive price. Its combination of size, location, and affordability makes it an attractive opportunity for buyers seeking a Costa Rica luxury investment, whether for building a primary residence, vacation home, or long-term asset in one of the country's most desirable residential markets. The lot is flat and ready to build, making it a practical option for a primary residence, vacation home, or rental property. Its larger size provides added flexibility for home design, parking, gardens, terraces, or additional outdoor space.
