Property Description

There are properties one acquires—and there are places one is entrusted to protect. Hidden within the mountains of Southern Costa Rica, approximately 40 minutes from Dominical, this extraordinary 222-acre property offers the exceptionally rare opportunity to own a spectacular 210-foot waterfall, the surrounding rainforest and an established ecotourism destination. Landscapes of this significance are normally experienced within national parks or protected reserves. Here, however, one fortunate new steward will have the privilege of privately owning the waterfall, its principal access and the remarkable landscape that surrounds it. This is more than a real estate acquisition. It is a once-in-a-generation opportunity to protect an irreplaceable Costa Rican natural sanctuary, continue a meaningful family legacy and guide an established ecotourism destination into its next chapter. A Family Legacy Since 1976 The property has been cared for by the same local Costa Rican family since 1976.
