Property Description

Great 4 acre property in Plantanillo with sunset views to build on and lots of room for vegetable gardens and fruit trees! There is a small cabin on the property where you could live while you plan and build the home of your dreams. Conveniently located off of the San Juan del Dios Road, there are 2 building sites that will provide views of the mountains, small ocean view and sunset views. Looking to grow your own food source? Then this lot is for you with lots of usable space for gardening. Several fruit trees are already on the property. The terrain is gently rolling and is bordered on two sides by streams that run in the rainy season. The small, 240 square foot, cabin is modest but nicely remodeled with electric and water. Basically a studio with a loft bedroom and a separate bathroom. The outdoor shower is off of the back deck and out of sight of any neighbors. Located on a public road, this property could easily be subdivided into two separate lots.
