Property Description

There is no doubt that this property boasts some of the best views in the Southern Pacific Zone. Tantalizing during the day, and heartbreaking at sunset. This one of a kind property also has some of the most exotic trees (largest stand of lipstick palms I have ever seen) and producing fruit trees. It is like a postcard perfect setting, with dramatic views, gentle breezes, perfect temperatures, and a well-known iconic neighborhood. Perched at 300m (990ft) you will enjoy a view over creation during the day and nice cool temperatures at night. Easy access on well-maintained roads will guide you to your new dream estate. The existing home, although modest, can be easily remodeled or serve as a place to stay until it is replaced with modern construction. The huge garage is a handyman's dream, but the pool. Oh the pool, is a masterpiece. Resort size, inviting, and perfectly designed for hours of entertaining.
