Property Description

A modern marvel of tropical architecture in Ojochal, this two-bedroom home plus media room is incredibly spacious and impeccably laid out. The home feels huge despite its smaller footprint! Two ensuite bedrooms are situated on either wing of the home, each with its own sensational view. The large master bedroom faces the ocean view while the guest bedroom is pointed at the towering mountain view on full display. This brand new home is located in Ojochal's Phase 11 – one of the newer developments in town. The roads here are wide and well-groomed and there are many neighbors settled within this vibrant community of international expats. All of the eventual neighbors to this property have already built up their properties so the view you see is the view you will get. As you drive up to the home, you will notice that you are high above the homes below you and a wall of jungle above that will remain there for privacy.
