Property Description

This property is 1.28 acres of estate land in Ojochal and the entirety of it is usable building space. This large property has a great mountain view and a pocket ocean view as well! This is a special lot at an attractive price for those looking to build a family home in a great area nearby lots of schools, stores, and services. Thanks to the pocket ocean view clearing, Pacific Ocean breezes pass across this property during the day. In the evening, the refreshing winds shift and the cooler air blows down from the mountain. With a home design that takes advantage of this breeze corridor, you will have no need for A/C. Phase 11 in Ojochal is the most accessible of the developments in this popular expat and tourism destination. This property is within a 10-minute drive to the restaurants and stores in town and only 15 minutes to the signature beaches that this natural region of Costa Rica is known for.
