Property Description

A rare gem in the highly sought after and exclusive Ayacucho community, this 1.42 acre, front row real estate lot offers the trifecta of sunset ocean views, and convenient access (to both the beach and commercial center), and privacy. Ayacucho is a premier gated community on the Southern Pacific Coast of Costa Rica, and exceptional lots like this one seldom come to market. While every home in Ayacucho is special, this lot provides an ideal canvas to showcase your vision. Turn your dreams into reality with the perfect lot to build your perfect home in paradise! Ayacucho is home to both year-round residents and extremely successful high-end vacation rentals. Nestled gently into the jungle to the rear, this unique property has the potential for a casita in addition to the main house, giving you extra flexibility in developing the land as a private residence and/or dual-income property. Unlike many of the raw land lots on the market, your parcel comes as part of a community with an active and engaged HOA, which provides a bevy of built-in amenities.
